

Reading I for Third Sunday of Easter

Acts 2:14, 22B-28

L écti-o Actu-um Apostolórum

I n di-e Pentecóstes, stans Petrus cum Undecim levávit vocem su-am et locútus est e-is: « Vi-ri Iudæ-i et qui habi-tá-tis Ierúsalem univér-si, hoc vobis notum sit et áuribus percípi-te verba me-a. Iesum Nazarénium virum approbátum a De-o apud vos virtútibus et prodígi-is et signis quæ fecit per illum De-us in médi-o vestri, sicut ipsi sci-tis, hunc definíto consí-li-o et præsci-énti-a De-i tráditum per manum iniquórum affigéntes interemístis, quem De-us susci-távit solútis dolóribus mor-tis, iuxta quod impossíbi-le erat tenéri illum ab e-a: David enim dicit circa e-um: “Providébam Dóminum coram me semper, quóni-am a dextris me-is est ne commóve-ar. Propter hoc lætátum est cor me-um et exsultávit lingua me-a, ínsuper et caro me-a requi-éscet in spe quóni-am non dere-línques ánimam me-am in inférno neque dabis Sanctum tu-um vidére corrupti-ónem. Notas fecísti mihi vi-as vitæ, replébis me iucundi-táte cum faci-e tu-a ”».

℣. Verbum Dómini. ℟. De-o grá-ti-as.