

Reading II for Sixth Sunday of Easter

Year C

Revelation 21:10–14, 22–23

L

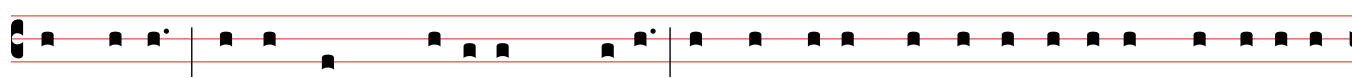

écti-o libri Apocalýpsis be-á-ti Io-ánnis apósto-li

S

ústu-lit me ángelus in spí-ritu super montem magnum et altum et osténdit mihi Civi-tátem sanctam Ierúsalem descendéntem de cælo a De-o, habéntem glóri-am De-i; lumen eius sími-le lápidi pre-ti-osíssimo, tamquam lápidi iáspidi, in modum crystálli; et habébat murum magnum et altum et habébat portas du-ódecim et super portas Angelos du-ódecim et nómina inscripta, quæ sunt du-ódecim tríbu-um fi-li-órum Isra-el. Ab ori-énte portæ tres et ab aqui-lóne porta tres et ab austro porta tres et ab occásu portæ tres: et murus Civi-tá-tis habens fundamén-ta du-ódecim et super ipsis du-ódecim nómina du-ódecim Apostolorum

Agni. Et templum non vidi in e-a, Dóminus enim De-us Omnipotens templum illí-us est, et Agnus. Et Cívi-tas non eget sole neque luna, ut lúce-ant e-i, nam glóri-a De-i illuminávit e-am, et lucérna eius est Agnus.

℣. Verbum Dómini. ℟. De-o grá-ti-as.