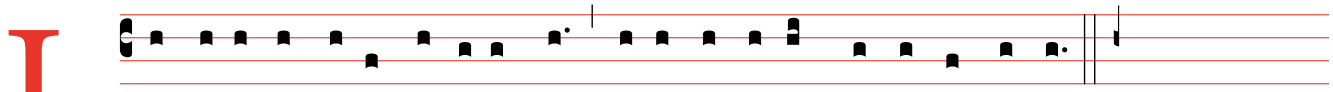
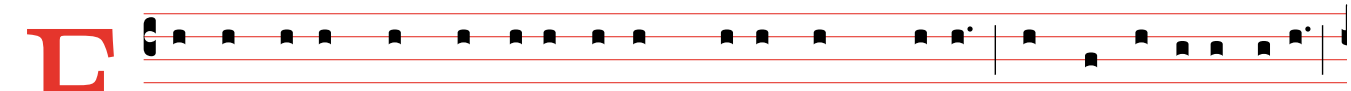
Ap 22:12–14, 16–17, 20



Lécti-o libri Apocalýpsis be-á-ti Io-ánnis apósto-li



E-go, Io-ánnes, audívi vocem dicéntem mihi: « Ecce véni-o cito, et merces me-a mecum est, réddere unicu-íque sicut opus eius est.

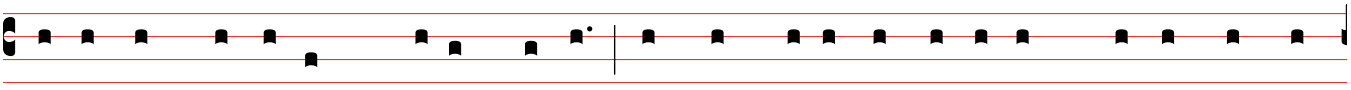
Ego Alpha et Oméga, Primus et Novíssimus, Princípi-um et Finis.



Be-á-ti qui lavant stolas su-as, ut sit potéstas e-órum super lignum vitæ et portis intrent in Civi-tátem. Ego Iesus mi-si ángelum me-um testi-ficári vobis hæc super Ecclési-is. Ego sum Radix et Genus David,

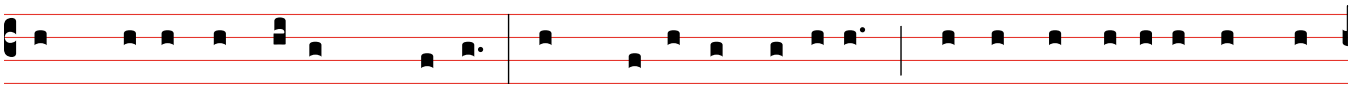
Stella spléndida matutína ». Et Spí-ritus et Sponsa dicunt: « Veni! »



Et qui audit dicat: « Veni! » Et qui si-tit véni-at, qui vult accípi-at Aquam

Vitæ gra-tis. Dicit qui testimóni-um pérhibet istórum: « Eti-am, véni-o cito ». A-men. Ve-ni, Dómine Iesu!

℣. Verbum Dómini. ℟. De-o grá-ti-as.
