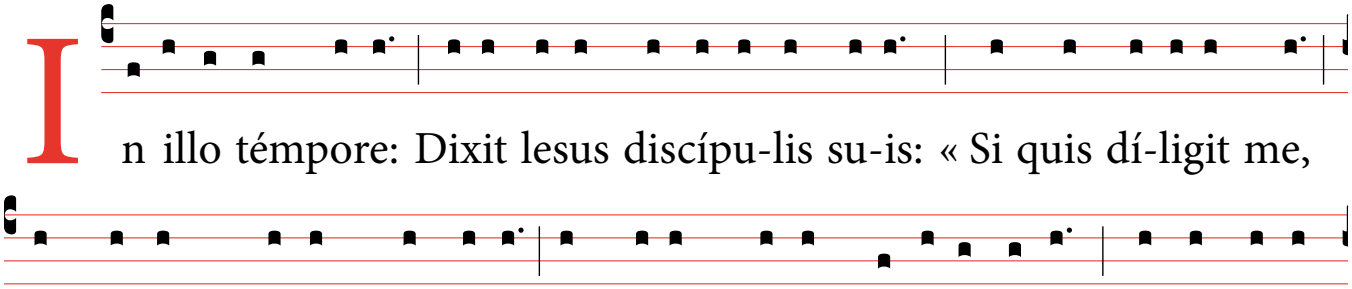
Gospel for Sixth Sunday of Easter

Year C

John 14:23–29

Tonus Antiquior

Dóminus vobíscum. ℟. Et cum spí-ritu tu-o. ℣. Lécti-o sancti Evangé-li-i secúndum Io-ánnem ℟. Glóri-a tibi, Dómine.



In illo témpore: Dixit Iesus discípu-lis su-is: « Si quis dí-ligit me, sermónem me-um servábit, et Pater me-us dí-liget e-um, et ad e-um veni-émus et mansi-ónem apud e-um faci-émus. Qui non dí-ligit me, sermónes me-os non servat. Et sermo quem audí-tis non est me-us, sed Eius qui mi-sit me, Patris. Hæc locútus sum vobis apud vos manens.

Paráclitus autem, Spí-ritus Sanctus quem mittet Pater in Nómine me-o, ille vos docébit ómni-a et súggeret vobis ómni-a quæ dixi vobis. Pacem

re-línquo vobis, pacem me-am do vobis; non quómodo mundus dat ego do vobis. Non turbétur cor vestrum neque formídet. Audístis qui-a ego dixi vobis: “ Vado et véni-o ad vos ”. Si di-ligeré-tis me gauderé-tis, qui-a vado ad Patrem, qui-a Pater maior me est. Et nunc dixi vobis pri-úsquam fi-at, ut cum factum fú-erit credá-tis ».

℣. Verbum Dómini. ℟. Laus tibi, Christe.