Gospel for Fifth Sunday of Lent

Year C

John 8:1–11

Tonus Antiquior

Dóminus vobíscum. ℟. Et cum spí-ritu tu-o. ℣. Lécti-o sancti Evangé-li-i secúndum Io-ánnem ℟. Glóri-a tibi, Dómine.

In illo témpore: Iesus perréxit in Montem Olivé- ti. Di- lúculo autem í-terum venit in templum, et omnis pópulus veni-ébat ad e-um, et sedens docébat e-os. Addúcunt autem scribæ et Pharisæ-i mu-lí-erem in adultéri-o deprehénsam, et statu-érunt e-am in médi-o, et dicunt

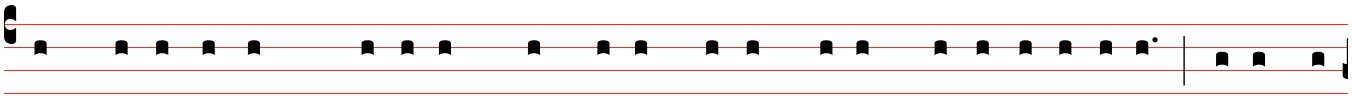
e-i: « Magister, hæc mú-li-er mani-fésto deprehénsa est in adultéri-o;



in Lege autem Mó-yses mandávit nobis huiúsmodi lapidáre; ¿tu ergo quid dicis? » Hoc autem dicébant tentántes e-um, ut possent accusáre

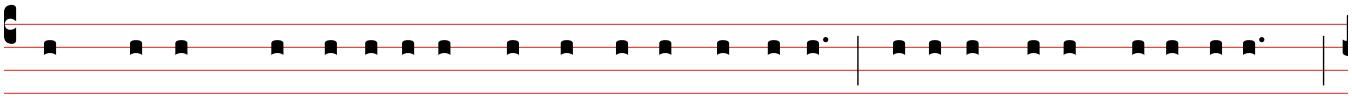
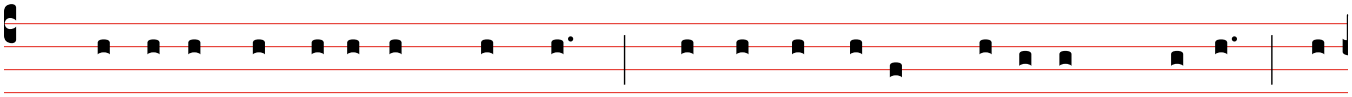
e-um. Iesus autem inclínans se de-órsum dígito scribébat in terra.



Cum autem perseverárent interrogántes e-um, eréxit se et dixit e-is:



« Qui sine peccáto est vestrum, primus in illam lápidem mittat », et í-terum se inclínans scribébat in terra. Audi-éntes autem unus post unum exíbant, incipi-éntes a seni-óribus, et remánsit solus, et mú-li-er in médi-o stans. Erigens autem se Iesus dixit e-i: « Mú-li-er, ¿ubi sunt?

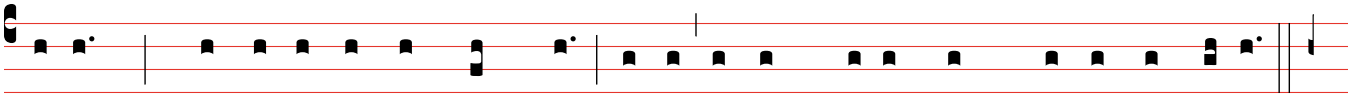
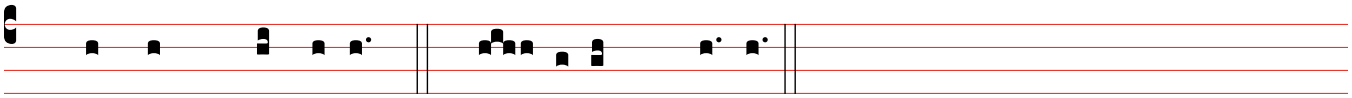
¿Nemo te condemnávit? » Qua dixit: « Nemo, Dómine ». Dixit autem



Iesus: « Nec ego te condémno: vade, et ámpli-us iam no-li peccáre ».



℣. Verbum Dómini. ℟. Laus tibi, Christe.