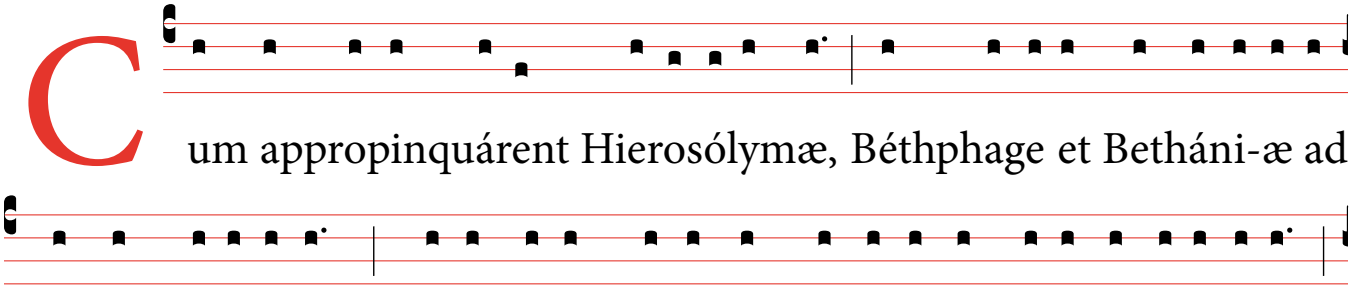
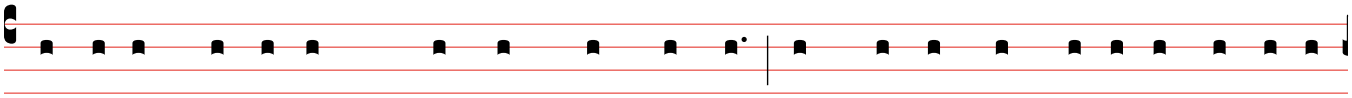
Mark 11:1–10

Tonus Antiquior

Evangé-li-i secúndum Marcum. ℟. Glóri-a tibi, Dómine.



Montem Olivárum, mittit Iesus du-os ex discípu-lis su-is et a-it illis:



« I-te in castéllum quod est contra vos, et sta-tim intro-e-úntes illud inveni-é-tis pullum ligátum, super quem nemo adhuc hóminum sedit; sólvi-te illum et addúci-te. Et si quis vobis díxerit: “ ¿Quid fáci-tis hoc? ”, díci-te: “ Dómino necessári-us est, et contínu-o illum remíttit í-terum huc ”». Et abe-úntes invenérunt pullum ligátum ante iánu-am foris in bívi-o, et solvunt e-um. Et quidam de illic stántibus dicébant illis: « ¿Quid fáci-tis solvéntes pullum? » Qui dixérunt e-is sicut díxerat

Iesus, et dimisérunt e-is. Et ducunt pullum ad Iesum, et impónunt illi vestiménta su-a, et sedit super e-um. Et multi vestiménta su-a stravérunt in vi-a, á-li-i autem frondes quas excíderant in agris. Et qui præ-íbant et qui sequebántur clamábant: « Hosánna! Benedíctus qui venit in Nómine Dómini! Benedíctum quod venit Regnum patris nostri David!

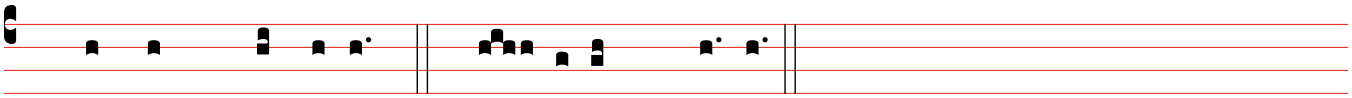
Hosánna in excélsis ».



℣. Verbum Dómini. ℟. Laus tibi, Christe.
