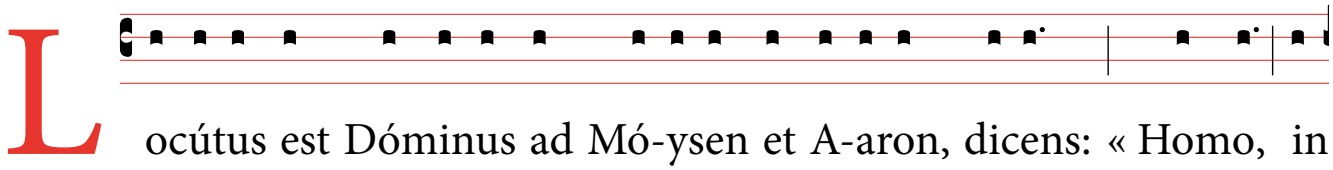
Reading I for Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Year B

Leviticus 13:1–2, 44–46

Lécti-o libri Leví-tici



Locútus est Dóminus ad Mó-ysen et A-aron, dicens: « Homo, in cuius cute et carne ortus fú-erit divérsus color, sive pústula aut quasi lucens quíppi-am, id est plaga lepræ, adducétur ad A-aron sacerdótem, vel ad unum quémlibet fi-li-órum eius. Quicúmque ergo maculátus fú-erit lepra, et separátus est ad arbítri-um sacerdótis, habébit vestiménta dissúta, caput nudum, os veste contéctum, contaminátum ac sórdidum se clamábit. Omni témpore, quo leprósus est et immúndus, solus habi-tábit extra castra ».

℣. Verbum Dómini. ℟. De-o grá-ti-as.
