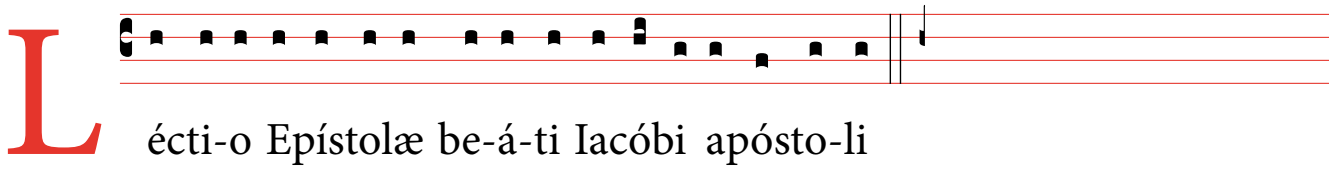
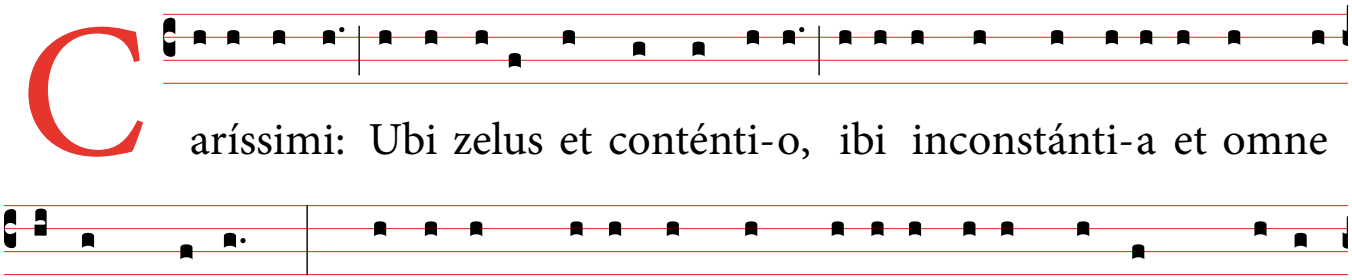
Reading II for Twenty-Fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Year B

James 3:16–4:3



Lécti-o Epístolæ be-á-ti Iacóbi apósto-li



Caríssimi: Ubi zelus et conténti-o, ibi inconstánti-a et omne opus pravum. Qua autem desúrsum est sapi-énti-a primum quidem pudíca est, de-índe pací-fica, modésta, su-adíbi-lis, plena misericórdi-a et frúctibus bonis, non iúdicans, sine simula-ti-óne; fructus autem iustí-ti-æ in pace seminátur faci-éntibus pacem. ¿Unde bella et unde li-tes in vobis? ¿Nonne hinc, ex concupiscénti-is vestris qua mí-li-tant in membris vestris? Concupísci-tis et non habé-tis; occídi-tis et zelá-tis, et non potéstis adipísci; li-tigá-tis et belligerá-tis. Non habé-tis propter quod non postulá-tis; pé-ti-tis et non accípi-tis, e-o quod male pé-ti-tis, ut in concupiscénti-is vestris insumá-tis.

℣. Verbum Dómini. ℟. De-o grá-ti-as.
