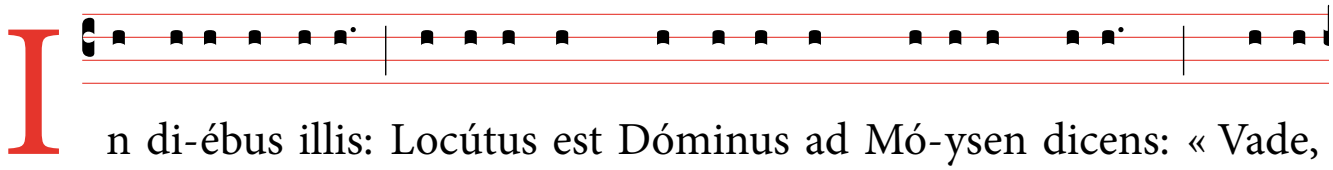
Reading I for Twenty-Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Year C

Exodus 32:7–11, 13–14

Lécti-o libri Exodi



In di-ébus illis: Locútus est Dóminus ad Mó-ysen dicens: « Vade, descénde; peccávit pópulus tu- us, quem eduxísti de terra Ægýpti.

Recessérunt cito de vi-a, quam ostendísti e-is, fecerúntque sibi vítulum conflá-ti-lem et adoravérunt; atque immolántes e-i hósti-as dixérunt:

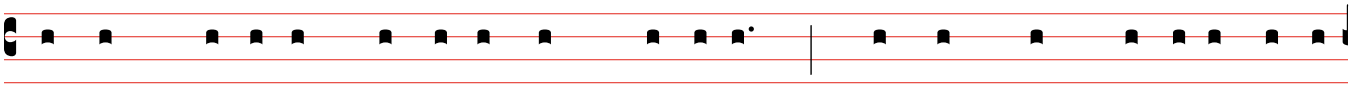
“ Isti sunt di- i tu- i, Isra- el, qui te eduxérunt de terra Ægýpti ”».



Rursúmque a- it Dóminus ad Mó- ysen: « Cerno quod pópulus iste duræ cervícis sit; dimítte me, ut irascátur furor me-us contra e-os et dé-le-am e-os, faci-ámque te in gentem magnam ». Mó-yses autem orábat Dóminum De-um su-um dicens: « ¿Cur, Dómine, iráscitur furor tu-us contra pópulum tu-um, quem eduxísti de terra Ægýpti in fortitúdine magna et in manu robústa? Recordáre Abraham, Isa-ac et Isra-el servórum tu-órum, quibus iurásti per temet-ípsum dicens:

“ Multiplicábo semen vestrum sicut stellas cæli, et univérsam terram hanc, de qua locútus sum, dabo sémini vestro, et possidébi-tis e-am semper ”». Placatúsque est Dóminus ne fáceret malum, quod locútus fú-erat advérsus pópulum su-um.
